

Consumerism is a social and economic order and ideology, that encourages the acquisition of goods and services in ever-greater amounts.